

<http://www.theenvironmentsite.org/forum/climate-change-forum/10401-capitalist-environmentalist-same-time.html>

Hello, I started this thread a while back which has seemed to have gained a positive response from those that understand it. I am a believer we can get to 100% renewables without any real cost to the economy (more likely a saving), so what this link is an idea on economic reform that could possibly make it happen. Please check it out and see if it would work and if it would fit into Australia's future. I have already sent this to a few politicians without a response as yet. So if it doesn't work then I still don't know why.

Many Thanks

Yours Faithfully

"Windguy"
Brett de Courcy Harris
Wallsend NSW