

18/2/2008

Re: The Garnaut Climate Change Review

I believe that the Review clearly indicates that a number of government approved projects are ready to commence clearing natural forest and plantations to fuel industrial development, notably the Tasmanian Pulp Mill.

Surely the proposed pulp mill development should be carefully reviewed to assess the true value of its <sup>living</sup> fuel to the community - retained and extended to combat negative effects of climate change - or - pulped to add to the detrimental effects of climate change ??

Grace E. Frasca PA/LA.